Uses

This form is to be used when applying for a residence permit in the Faroe Islands if you are a:

- Extension of a residence permit

In this form the term applicant is used to refer to you, the person applying for a residence permit to live with a spouse, cohabitant or parent who is to work or study in the Faroe Islands. The term sponsor is used to refer to the your spouse, cohabitant or parent.

Note that documentation must be in Danish or English. If this is not the case, the documentation must be translated into Danish or English by an authorised translator before submitting the application.

How to submit the application

Normally, a first time application must be submitted to a Danish representation in the applicant's home country.

A first time application can therefore only be submitted to the police in the Faroe Islands on special grounds and if the applicant is staying legally in the Faroe Islands.

An application for an extension can be submitted to the police in the Faroe Islands or in Denmark, or in SIRI's Citizen Centre. The applicant must bring his or her passport in order for the authorities to verify the identity of the applicant and the passport's validity.

A first time application or an application for an extension can also be sent directly to SIRI.

If an application is sent directly to SIRI, the applicant must later meet in person in order to receive the decision. This can be done at a Danish representation, at the police or in SIRI's Citizen Centre in Denmark. The applicant must bring his or her passport in order for the authorities to verify the identity of the applicant.
